CIRCULARINVEST FREE SERVICES

Business Plan Development

Business plans are the true foundation for any new initiatives, especially those that bring innovation in the form of products or services. Holding a solid business plan gives circular economy projects direction and helps them visualise potential risks, assess viability, and attract investments.

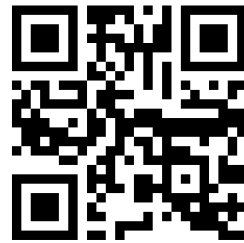

Depending on the project's stage, CircularInvest Business Plan Development service will give support to develop a full business plan or review an existing one and improve the project's financial soundness and bankability.

Circularity Optimisation

By reducing, reusing and recycling material that would traditionally go to waste, circular models outburst positive societal and environmental impacts. Understanding the potential impacts of Circular Economy projects and having a robust assessment method is essential for securing funding efficiently. With this service, CircularInvest aims to help projects define, assess and review the circularity of their business models.

Fundraising

Fundraising is a crucial activity for the development and success of a project. However, fundraising can be a hard task considering that the ecosystem of investors is very wide and that each of them has specific requirements and engagement rules. CircularInvest aims to support circular economy projects in preparing and reviewing a fundraising plan and presenting the projects to potential investors in an appealing way.
